

We're officially 'Outstanding'!

Ofsted visited Eden Girls' School in early July. Inspectors praised our school leaders for creating "a highly aspirational culture of academic performance, moral development and civic duty" where "pupils and teachers believe that anything is possible".

The inspectors' report identifies a high quality of teaching, and an effective use of assessments to support pupils' progress. Pupils' excellent attitudes to their studies and high standards of behaviour were found to enable lessons to run smoothly.

Ofsted inspectors were impressed by the strong management of the school and leaders' support of staff through extensive and effective training. As a result, inspectors found, "teaching and the leadership of teaching are consistently improving".

Key findings of Ofsted's report include:

- ◆ The formal and wider curriculum is broad and varied. It offers a wide range of interesting and sometimes unusual activities... All pupils have access to a wide range of cultural, sporting and creative activities in addition to their core curriculum.
- ◆ Teachers have high expectations and offer high levels of challenge across a range of subjects.

- ◆ Leaders make sure that pupils are well prepared for life in modern Britain. Fundamental British Values are embedded into the life of the school.
- ◆ Pupils are polite, thoughtful and kind to one another. They are mature while also enjoying activities exuberantly.
- ◆ Leaders take time to make careful plans for meeting the individual needs of pupils who have special educational needs and/or disabilities. All aspects of these pupils' needs are taken into account, including their social and emotional development, and these pupils' attendance is very strong, well above the national average. As a result, they make rapid progress from their starting points.

"We are thrilled with Ofsted's findings. What stands out for me in the inspectors' report is the praise for our pupils – as motivated learners, as engaged citizens and as thoughtful and respectful young people. I'm so proud of the role of my staff in supporting our girls to become confident, mature and very able citizens who will go on to do wonderful things. And we owe a huge vote of thanks to our governors who repeatedly go 'the Extra Mile' in working with Eden and the Trust to nurture today's young people and inspire tomorrow's leaders"

From the Principal

"All of you are shepherds and each of you is responsible for his flock. The leader of people is a guardian and is responsible for his subjects. A man is a shepherd in respect of his family and is responsible for those in his care... All of you are shepherds and each of you is responsible for his flock." (Bukhari)

Prefects' working lunch: leadership in action.

One aspect of our curriculum and ethos at Eden of which we are particularly proud is leadership development. As our school grows we are constantly seeking more and more opportunities for students to develop a leadership mind set and the skills necessary to successfully lead others. This coming year, for the first time, we are introducing the Bronze Duke of Edinburgh Award for our Year 10 students and pupils also have the chance to go on a leadership residential to Kingswood Outdoor Education Centre in Staffordshire. Other opportunities include being a Prefect, a member of the Student Shura or a Sports Leader.

Whilst we do want our students to become great leaders, we also aspire for them to follow in the footsteps of the Prophet Mohamed (PBUH) by becoming 'servant-leaders'. In the Hadeeth above the Prophet (PBUH) explains the importance of us recognising and meeting our responsibilities as leaders within our communities and families. He says that although our responsibilities may differ the need to take responsibility is paramount to achieving success. His use of the word shepherd highlights two important qualities good leaders should display; humility and humbleness. A shepherd leads his flock of animals, who by nature can be unruly and difficult to manage, but he does not give up, he continues to do what needs to be done to ensure his flock is fed, watered, happy and safe.

In summing up... a great leader is not someone who bosses others around but rather someone who listens to their community, helps them and reacts to their needs and, above all, is committed to leading by example ... regardless of the challenges this may bring.

So we learn that a leader is not one who everyone else serves but one who serves and betters their people... their community. This seems like an apt thought to reflect on as we and our first cohort of students approach their GCSEs and the culmination of their time at Eden Girls school.

From The Head Girl

Where did the past four years go? One minute I was a nervous Year 8 student, the next I'm nearly an adult deciding which card to play in the game of life. Still nervous but I guess a little taller than before. They say time flies when you're having fun and without realising it, my early teens have been the best years of my life.

My miniature friendship group was a mere two or three, whilst now it is filled with so many different people who make me smile every day. Who, by Allah's grace, make everyday a blast! I can honestly say that my friends are set apart from the rest. They are the type of people that 'have your back' through thick and thin. They're the sort of people that help you in lessons and wait for you outside classrooms. They're the very friends that will join you shoulder to shoulder in prayer before rushing off in droves to the next lesson. Saying good bye to this phenomenal bunch of crazy, wacky girls will be the one of the hardest things I will ever have to do... But I sincerely pray that Allah is with you in whatever path you choose to take and I know that wherever you go or whoever you want to become, that place will only be filled with 'awesomeness'.

The teachers are some of the most amazing people I have met. They truly care for us as though we are their "children" and assist us in every problem we may have, whilst extending their long hours in order to help fulfil our full potential. They correct us whenever we make "blunders" and also tell us to "power through." These teachers have gone from strangers to friends in such a short space of time. Most of us look to faraway places when thinking of our role models, but for me mine are much closer. Mine lie at both home and at school; they are not extravagant but are the people walking through the corridor with their cups of tea asking us about our studies and future lessons. They encompass our esteemed Islamic values as they come with humility and without the need to be above anyone else. I can never thank Allah enough for placing such people in my life.

As for the rest of the student body, keep smiling. Smiling is a Sunnah... spread happiness wherever you go. Treat all with respect and integrity regardless of their race, religion or colour. After all, our lives aren't measured in years they're measured in the lives of the people we touch around us. As Mohammed Ali once said "Don't count the days, make the days count."

May Allah shower us all with His blessings in the future, Inshallah. Good luck everyone!

Awards Event

On 19th July 2017 staff, governors, students and families gathered for the finale to the academic term. The awards assembly at Eden Girls was held in the Sports Centre, as this prestigious event had outgrown the Reflection Hall.

Students proudly received awards for 100% attendance, Subject Awards and the Tauheedul Baccaalaureate, of which a platinum award is the highest.

Four students were presented with engraved platinum trophies:

Aisyah Nazim	Year 9
Yasmine Hussain	Year 10
Wardah Hassan	Year 11
Rabiah Khan	Year 11

Let's see how many will receive the platinum award at this year's event on Monday 23rd July 2018.

The Tauheedul Baccalaureate

At Eden, we strive for excellence in all that we do. Our aim and goal is for our students to be the best that they can be.

The students at Eden will not just excel academically but will develop into well rounded leaders; leaders who are ethically, morally and spiritually intelligent, leaders who make a positive contribution to the very communities they live in and come from, leaders who inspire others through the strength of their character and whose actions and conduct are of the highest standard.

Through its award the Tauheedul Baccalaureate recognises not only the commitment of its holder to study and to outstanding attendance and behaviour; but also reflects how they embrace their role as a future citizen, leader and entrepreneur in the wider society in which they will live and to which they will contribute.

To achieve an award at the end of this year students need earn a minimum of 50 points for Platinum, 40 points for Gold, 30 points for Silver and 20 for Bronze.

The students listed below are at the top of the 'Leader Board' for the Tauheedul Baccalaureate this term and are well on their way to Gold and Platinum awards in the summer. Congratulations to all.

Interview Practice

Year 11 pupils at Eden Girls' School were interviewed for fictional vacancies, when volunteers from the civil service visited the school. The students received advice on structuring their CVs and writing application letters to respond to 12 mock job adverts based on real vacancies.

Conrad Pfahler, a Schools Adviser at the Department for Work & Pensions, said, "It was my pleasure to support the school on this activity, bringing together a panel of interviewers that included colleagues from HMRC, the Ministry of Justice and the Passport Office.

We were all very impressed with how the girls conducted themselves on the interview day."

Pupil Amira Jama added, "The whole process boosted my confidence. By the end of the interview I felt inspired and felt it was a success."

Tracey Harvey, Support For Schools Lead at the DWP, commented, "I was so impressed with the standard, passion and level of interview skills the Eden Girls' School pupils all demonstrated. I was exceptionally taken with the valued life skills and opportunities they had been involved in and were able to demonstrate in the interview."

Eden girls are prepared for life beyond the classroom thanks to a partnership with the DWP that saw them put through their paces in job interviews.

Top Performers

At Eden, all students from Year 7 to Year 11 sit assessments at the end of every half term. These show how well each student is doing, where they need to improve and whether they are on track to achieve their GCSE grade at the end of Year 11.

The assessments in Year 7 and 8 inform us how far students have progressed on their learning journey.

Congratulations to the following students for their excellent progress at the end of the first half term. They have exceeded their target grades in either one, two or three core subjects: English, Maths and Science.

Joining Year 7

Making the move from primary school can sometimes be daunting, but my first time at Eden Girls' has been a smooth transition, where I have found the staff and the students to be friendly and welcoming. It is like being part of one big family.

I am not only learning how to improve in my subjects but in my everyday life, through hadith in action and spirituality days.

The school is helping me aim high and be the best I can be in everything I do. My teachers have been supportive helping me overcome certain worries and build my confidence.

My favourite subject is Religious Education because it is a way of understanding different religions and the society we live in. The lesson gives me the opportunity to express my feelings and opinions about other religions.

I have been able to look at different religions and understand that people have different beliefs and to respect everyone. Miss Bashir, my teacher, has helped me do this.

The P.E lessons are enjoyable and different at Eden as it is not just about improving my fitness but Miss Williams has been teaching us how to be resilient which I will need as the years go by.

Overall I feel Eden is a special place which I am proud to be part of.

Activities Week 2017

Although academic achievement is undoubtedly very important at Eden it is essential that our girls' curricular experience is broad and balanced.

In addition to weaving creativity and the development of technical capabilities throughout the curriculum we provide additional opportunities for these and other enrichment via our annual Activities Week which took place at the end of the summer term.

The week was devoted to enrichment activities, trips, and experiences that students wouldn't normally gain during the average school week.

Our local PCSOs ran a series of workshops on the dangers and pitfalls of Social Media and how to stay safe on-line.

Year 8 had a real treat when they visited the Stratford Upon Avon Butterfly farm. They saw some of the world's largest and most camouflaged caterpillars on show with cocoons, giant silk moths and shining pupae hanging on the plants. They discovered the amazing lifecycle of a butterfly within the Emerging Cage where butterflies hatched from their chrysalis.

Year 9 travelled to Stratford-upon-Avon to study the life and times of William Shakespeare. They visited the birthplaces of both Shakespeare and Anne Hathaway and received a spotlight talk on Macbeth.

Year 10 history students visited the George Marshall Medical Museum in Worcester. They witnessed 'first hand' Mr. George Marshall's fantastic collection of objects illustrating the way that medicine and health care have developed over the past 250 years and saw the gory collection of death masks of hanged criminals, the reconstructed apothecary shop and Victorian operating theatre.

Meanwhile Year 10 geographers travelled with Mr McCormick to carry out their GCSE fieldwork in Bewdley, a quaint tourist destination on the River Severn. They investigated the effects of weathering on gravestones in the churchyard and looked into the impact of tourism on the town and its inhabitants.

Year 7 got to study life in a medieval castle both above and below ground. The visit to Warwick Castle included descending into the Castle Dungeon which dates back to 1345 at a time when Warwick was gripped by the plague.

But it wasn't all high adrenaline thrills... back in school the girls learned how to manage the day to day stresses of life in a series of relaxation classes.

Eden Girls' Cooking Club

Eden Girls' is excited to announce the arrival of a brand new kitchen! This installation has caused quite a 'stir' around the school. Places for the newly established cooking club have been filled until July 2018. Students are desperate to be a part of the six week cooking cycle.

Having a kitchen at Eden Girls has been a great opportunity for our girls to develop their culinary skills. Makbule Ali in Year 8 said 'I have really enjoyed cooking this term. It was an amazing experience and quite unforgettable'. Every Thursday, the aroma of pasta bakes, apple crumble, pizza and stir fry waft onto the maths corridor, which is where the kitchen is located.

Sadiyah Khalifa, a member of the first cooking cohort said, "The teachers gave us their time and that is the most thoughtful gift of all.

Personally I have a massive passion for cooking and baking as you're literally providing plated nourishment made with your own hands and creativity". Rihan Abdullah recalled, "Cooking club was a wonderful experience- the teaching staff were kind and accepted any mistakes that we made".

The school would like to thank Mrs Mangera for running these sessions and creating a buzz around school and a love for cooking.

Never Missed a Day of School

Gaining 100% for attendance during my four years at Eden has definitely been a struggle. It's the fact that you have to persevere to come in every single day no matter how you're feeling. This has definitely not been easy.

However, attendance is deemed very important. It is a well-known fact that students are more likely to succeed academically if they attend school regularly. From my personal experience, I have realised that 100% attendance has benefitted me in so many different ways.

Firstly, I have never had to worry about missing any content that would be needed for the end of term or year exams. Even when I have been ill, I have persevered to come into school for the sake of my education.

My greatest achievement throughout the four years that I have attended Eden Girls would be receiving the Platinum award.

This award was presented to me for an acquired amount of merits, community service hours and attendance.

Wardah Hassan, Year 11

Prefect Success

The selection of prefects is at the heart of the school's success.

We had a pleasing number of applications for the position of prefect this year, which were of a very high standard. Congratulations and well done to the following pupils who have been selected to be prefects for the coming school year! They should be very proud of way they conducted themselves during the interview process.

Student Shura Elections

The Student Shura play a very important part of everyday school life. They are the individuals who represent their form classes, and are given the opportunity to highlight any concerns or voice any suggestions their peers may have. As the saying goes, with great power comes great responsibility.

7NEL	Samira Hirsi
7MAM	Naciimo Hassan
7SJO	Hawwa Hussain
7QNA	Amna Ebsaim
8PWI	Samrah Asif
8FMU	Kauthar Suleiman
8APN	Moza Ali
8SHJ	Makbule Ali
9SAK	Aliesha Rashid
9SHM	Mariam Khan
9MRA	Zeynab Abdulrahman
9HOM	Aishah Suleman
10KPA	Halima Akbar
10TTO	Aqsa Ali
10AWA	Munira Ahmed
10AMI	Asiya Abukar
11 SMA	Qamara Ahmed
11SMA	Safiya Patel

Makbule Ali in 8SHJ said, "I wanted to campaign because I thought it will help me to build up my confidence and leadership for university and my future career."

The responsibility of the Student Shura is not only to communicate the thoughts and views of the rest of the form, but also to be proactive and responsible. One of the most important responsibilities of a Student Shura member is attending the meetings, as this is the time when suggestions are made, and ideas born. One member said, "Being in the student shuraa isn't only about gaining confidence and facing your fears of speaking in front of people, it's all about making the voice of my form class and everybody else's voice heard and making changes.

Making everyone's voice contribute to reaching the extra mile." (Kauthar Suleiman, 8FMU). We are therefore delighted to announce the new Student Shuraa members for 2017/18 which were elected on 17th November after two weeks of campaigning.

Students creatively used speeches, treats, artwork, badges and balloons to campaign for the best candidates. Congratulations to all.

Spirituality Day

Have you ever wondered what your name means? Whether its meaning has an effect on you?

My form's topic for Spirituality Day was the 99 Names of Allah. This not only educated us of each divine name and its meaning, but also the importance of our names and how it motivates us to maintain the demeanour that our names reflect.

We began exploring the names of each student in the class and found how the qualities derived from each name had been reflected or found within each student. This enabled us to comprehend the vast number of qualities Allah possesses, therefore emphasising His omnipotence. We were able to experience a talk given by a local Alimah (female scholar), she spoke about the 99 Names of Allah and how they influence Muslims today. I learnt that the Arabic word 'Allah' is composed of four letters (ﷲ); these four letters can be made into three different words, which all link back to Allah.

The aim of the session, was for each student to understand that not only do these names hold such significance in our lives, but benefit us too. Each name is so different, yet can be so easily identified when being referred to Allah.

If we look around us we will see love, affection and caring everywhere. Think about everyone who has cared for you, helped you and taught you all of this love, affection and care that we see in the world around us. This is a manifestation of God's love for us.

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award Launch

Eden Girls' School Coventry is excited to launch the Duke of Edinburgh bronze award. This award was founded in 1956 by Prince Philip and is now completed in 144 countries.

We are passionate to run this award as it supports our school mission of 'nurturing today's young people, inspiring tomorrow's leaders'. The award is nationally recognised by top end employers and universities as it allows students to develop their leadership, team work and communication skills. Not only does it develop all aspects of leadership skills but it also builds character development through students gaining independence and confidence. This is done through activities such as using maps to find their way to the camp site, overcoming any challenges they may face, cooking, first aid, and camping overnight. Throughout the build up to the expedition students also have to complete their own personal programme where they have to develop a skill, develop their physical ability and volunteer. Two of these aspects have to be completed for three months and one has to be for six months.

Selected student, Farah Safdar, 9SHM, said, "I am thrilled to know that I've been given the opportunity to take part in the Duke of Edinburgh award. This will allow me to gain experience in different aspects of life. I get to experience the expedition aspect which I am really excited about as we get to camp overnight. I wanted to take part in this opportunity as I am certain that this experience will boost my confidence and advance my leadership skills."

Friendship Club

A new lunchtime club at Eden Girls is growing in popularity. The Friendship Club meet every lunchtime in a dedicated room where students can unwind and chat on sofas in a welcoming environment. They are encouraged to make new friends, play games, read, complete homework and arts and crafts.

Mrs Midgley – Lead HLTA who runs the group said "the girls really enjoy coming to the group, they feel safe to be themselves, relax and make new friends. The new room has been brilliant as students can decorate the display boards and make posters on subjects they are interested in. Being able to meet in a positive environment has really helped and students feel confident to talk to the others."

The Year 7s have found it invaluable to help them settle into the new school. They meet and chat with the older students in a positive environment. Year 10 and Year 11 students mentor the younger ones and teach them new games.

Rayan Year 7 said "If girls are feeling lonely they can come and have a nice time and talk about their feelings."

Urooj Year 8 said "girls that struggle with reading get help from others without being embarrassed."

Fatima Year 8 said "that Friendship Club is awesome!"

Students gain confidence to talk to people and make friends. If you're having a bad day you can come and someone will make you feel better.

The Club encourages the students to maintain good, healthy relationships, where sharing and caring for others gives a sense of community.

MacMillan Coffee Morning

The Humanitarian Club hosted a coffee afternoon to raise money for MacMillan Cancer Research.

MacMillan Cancer Research helps in supporting those who have been affected by cancer diagnosis, from helping with money or simply providing a listening ear. They are a great source of support, energy and inspiration for thousands of people.

The Humanitarian Club encouraged students to bring in donations and for both parents and students to submit cakes for a "bake-off" style competition and showcase their wonderful baking talents.

The response was amazing, we received a number of cake donations, as well as some amazing entries for the competition. The judges, Mrs Marshall and Mrs Thompson, found it extremely difficult to pick a winner. However, after careful deliberation it was decided that Yusra Sajaad won first place. Thank you to all those who donated cake and took part in the bake-off.

Restart a Heart

During the autumn term all students at Eden Girls' School, Coventry received training from West Midlands Ambulance Service in how to administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation, or CPR, in an emergency. A number of school staff members were also trained

Linda Thompson, Principal of Eden Girls' School, Coventry, said, "We're pleased to have such a positive partnership with the West Midlands Ambulance Service and to be able to invite them into school. They have trained every single one of our students in the essential skills to perform CPR in an emergency. We may be the first secondary school in England to train all of its pupils in this technique."

Abby Hall, Warwickshire Ambulance Services Official Responder, stated "the girls handled their training with maturity, the students were keen to ask relevant questions in order to further the new skills they have learned".

"My colleagues and I trained a number of Year 10 pupils from Eden Girls' School last October. It was great to be invited back to the school again to train every single student. It demonstrates a real commitment on the school's part to help their students become potential life-savers."

Year 9 student Ilham said, "I am really grateful and inspired by the CPR lesson we received today. Thank you for teaching me the new skills to save a life."

The Winter Hampers Appeal

Students have studied the importance of charity and respecting the elderly in the local community during their Hadeeth of the Week sessions. Therefore, the school decided to work alongside AgeUK for their Winter Hampers Appeal.

Christmas is an important festival for Christians all over the world, however not everyone is fortunate to receive gifts. AgeUK provided the school with a list of elderly people across Coventry who spend the festival isolated or alone. AgeUK's hampers help to make a small but important difference for these group of people. Each form class in school received a recipient for whom they would collect a hamper. The response from the girls was phenomenal, overall we received 18 hampers, as Mrs Museji states "The girls were really excited about this initiative and some of them spent lunch and after school to complete the card and the wrapping and designing of the hampers. It was a great idea and created a real competitive buzz in my form!"

The organisation came to collect the hampers and were speechless at the quality of the presents collected, "The hampers arrived and looked absolutely amazing. The generosity this year has been phenomenal.

We are so pleased with all the donations we received." (Dave Birkin, Age UK)

We are sure every recipient of these gifts will be truly grateful. One recipient, Peter, said: "Please thank all the students who have taken the time to make me this wonderful hamper, I am especially thrilled that they have taken the time to send me a card, they made me smile so much. They are a credit to their school and families."

Thank you to all our parents for their support.

Seerah Competition

The Prophet Muhammad (Peace be Upon Him) was an inspirational figure who transformed the lives of those around him and his legacy continues to inspire millions across the world.

At Eden Girls', we take inspiration from his noble character and manner with a continual focus on implementing his teachings and developing a school that is driven by his values and character. Values and characteristics that are relevant to people of all faiths and none.

To further instil these values a Seerah (Biography of the Prophet Muhammad) Competition will be running at the school during the Spring term. Students wishing to compete will be tasked with preparing a 10 minute speech on the life and legacy of the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH). The competition will culminate in a grand final attended by all staff and students. Good luck!
